

BLACK CHURCH: WHY PROPHET BRIAN CARN SHOULD PUBLICLY APOLOGIZE FOR ALLEGEDLY GIVING STD TO YOUNG WOMAN

 1:58 PM  Ms. Chandler

If you preach holiness as a fire and brimstone preacher, you ought to be able to publicly apologize to those you offend, only if you are guilty. Therefore, if Prophet Brian Carn really passed on an STD to this young woman named Ashley (read our previous article, if you missed it), he should be man enough to publicly admit he is wrong and apologize. Too many preachers like Prophet Carn preach to others about living holy, but when they get caught in the act of an alleged sin like fornication, they place the blame on those they allegedly offend.

Allegedly, Carn's pastor ignored Overseer Tonya Davis when she requested to have a meeting about Prophet Carn allegedly infecting her spiritual daughter with an STD. In our opinion, Prophet Carn should not just apologize to Ashley for allegedly giving her the STD, Trichomoniasis, but also to the others whom he may have infected or just had intercourse and left them alone without being committed in matrimony, allegedly.

You may say why should Prophet Carn apologize? Simply, because there is old mental sickness within the minds of many 'so-call' sanctified preachers and those whom support them within the black church, they think you ought to move on without anyone apologizing. If you really want to know the truth, this is what has damaged the black community and why many black women like this young lady, Ashley do not even want to have anything to do with the church. The old evil trick is, these preachers whom sleep around with women in the church or turn out children at such a young age is to accuse them of un-forgiveness. In order to move on, you have to deal with what has caused a deep scar in many lives of black women like Ashley and the other alleged ex-lovers of Prophet Carn. The same goes for preachers whom molest their young sisters or take sides with those whom offend them all sorts of ways, they use psychology and tell them they ought to forgive, instead of admitting they were wrong. Too many black women have turned away from the black church, because no one seems to listen and understand them. We must reveal the truth to you true saints of God, because if these these black preachers don't stop 'moving things under the rug,' they are going to cause a lot of souls to go astray and never return to the body of Christ. It is time for ignorance to cease among some clergy members who do not believe in dealing with offenses that leaves deep emotional wounds in the spirits of men and women. If Prophet Brian Carn continues to preach without getting things straight with this young lady and not apologize for giving her an STD, he could be in serious trouble with God, for he is no more special than his alleged victims. God cares about the hurt feelings of these young women.

The sickness of the black church such as 'pushing things under the rug' comes from deep rooted issues within black families, most of the time. Some black men whom are a part of the popular circle of preachers whom seem to get away with hurting people are the ones whom often are excused for hurting their very own female relatives. Therefore, they carry this perverted spirit into the church and the ones whom admit they have been sexually violated are often called demon possessed and accused of being a person who needs to put the past behind them. They often quote scriptures to rebuke their victims and accuse them of not being saved, because they express how they feel about a past painful offense. That is ignorant and these preachers within the black church whom are using psychology on their hurting victims need to repent, because, Jesus does not excuse nor forget what they have done, not unless they ask for forgiveness. You cannot just tell a person to pray and forgive the preacher without making sure they are doing all the necessary things to change themselves.

We want to tell you, one of the reasons why certain preachers like Brian Carn are able to be empowered to move on as though nothing happened, simply because of the support of many ignorant and silly women whom claim to be saved. We say to you women whom defend Prophet Carn, 'you are responsible for the ancient demon that lingers within the warped souls of some black preachers. If you would stop spoiling and pampering these black preachers whom hurt your sisters in Christ, then they would not feel as though they have the right to sleep around and keeping preaching as though they are so holy.'

So, if Prophet Brian Carn is so holy, we expect him to apologize to Ashley and the other women, only if he is guilty, including to those whom admire his ministry, only if he has been a hypocrite. It is wrong to preach holiness, if you have not lived such a holy and righteous life yourself.

In the meantime, we will be praying for Prophet Brian Carn and his alleged victim, Ashley and the other women he allegedly slept with and left them without asking to marry one of them.
